Notice.—District of Columbia Advertisements to be inserted in the BALTIMORE SUN are received at and forwarded from THE STAR Office.

RELIGIOUS -Yesterday the weather was more favorable for out-door movements than for some time past, and the opportunity was duly improved by church goers.

Methodist Prot. Church, Ninth st -The morning service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. L. Wilson, who preached from Luke, 6, 27 and 28. President Bates, of the Maryland Conference, preached at night, in conclusion of his official visit, from the text of Acts, 17.30. The text occurs in an address to the people of Athens. Circumstances bringing him into this city, Paul proposed to preach Christ to the idolatrous people; but the law prohibiting an addition to their gods was an obstacle. Passing through the place of their worship, he saw an altar with the inscription, "To the unknown God" This afforded him an opportunity to preach his discourse, and evade the Paul's discourse, until, coming to the text, he proceeded to show that without light no man is accountable. There was a time when man, unin-structed as to the nature and attributes of God, worshipped him in representations made of stocks and stones. Because of their ignorance of his attributes, this time of ignorance was winked at, or overlooked, by God; but now that Christ, the light of the world, has come, and the gospel is held up before the world to illumine the path and guide the wanderer aright, he commandeth all men to repent An explanation of what is repentance followed, showing the difference between true and false penitence; illustrating the power of sympathy, and fear of consequences in producing an apparent sorrow that is sometimes mistaken for Fourth Presbyterian Church -Rev. Dr. Smith preached from Job, 37 21. The Rev. speaker alluded to the inestimable blessing of sight, and directed the minds of his hearers to the visible manifestations of God's love and mercy to us. In the present distracted state of affairs we should turn to the word of God as our only comfort and counsellor, and if our hope is fixed upon Christ, and our trust firmly established in our heavenly father, the darkness in which we are now enveloped will only reveal to us that brighter light which only shines in the gloom of affliction and despondency. The church was to a great extent responsible for the danger that now threatens the land. Professing Christians, instead of living peacefully and harmoniously together, were engaged in strife and dissension, and that prevailing, effectual prayer, so extremely necessary at the present time, had been superseded by a trust in man's devices for peace and prosperity. Nothing less than the power of God can avert the storm that is now being raised by the corrupt and perverted passions of men, and the only remedy for the dangers now threatening us is a revival of religion throughout the land, that shall bind the hearts of all men together in a common bond of Waugh Chapel - The paster, Rev. J. R. Effinger, preached from Psalms 91:2. The speaker showed the futility of trusting for support to worldly hopes and prospects, and urged the ne-cessity of looking to Christ for help in difficulty. There was nothing stable or reliable on earth to which man could cling; but if his affections were centered on high and his rest firmly established in God, no storm nor affliction of life could daunt him, nor entirely darken his heart. His christian life should be at all times and under all circumstances irreproachable, and his religious duties should not be attended to at stated periods only, but he should constantly dwell in the secret places of the Most High, and ever be found with the spirit of God fully shed abroad in his heart. could not expect to enjoy the full fruition of God's promises if his religion only consisted in attending church, and the various means of grace at stated times, and his devotion was only periodical, but his heart should ever remain true to his maker as the needle is to the pole, and his affections immovably centered in Christ.

Grace Church, (Episcopal.)—Rev. Mr. Hol-mead, the rector, preached from Acts 27 20 This chapter, describing the penils of Paul's voyage toward Rome, the preacher thought should re-ceive the attention of our law-makers now. The striking similarity between the dangerous position of the vessel in which Paul sailed, and our own ship of State, was noted. But how different the conduct of the crews in some respects. In the case of the one, they, in their anxiety to lighten the ship, threw overboard their provisions and even the vessel's tackling. The crew of our ship are not willing to throw over their smallest prejudices to enable her to ride out the storm. There were secessionists on board Paul's ship, who wished to leave it, but Paul said "except these abide in the ship ye cannot be saved." They were needed to belp work the vessel. In conclusion the preacher expressed the fervent trust that terrible as was the storm our own noble ship of State would yet ride into the port of safety bearing all her crew and wearing the stars and

Wesley Chapel.—Rev. Mr. McCauley, pastor, preached in the morning service a sermon upon the subject of Happiness alone to be found in the likeness of God, from the text of Psalms, 17.15. At night from the text of 1st Timothy, 6 12. Methodist Church South .- Rev. J. A. Proctor preached upon the relation of God to man, from Matthew, 6th, part of 9th verse. At night from John. 6. 67 and 68: "Christ the only source of eter-

LARCENY ON THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL BY A WASHINGTON NEGRO .- Wm. H. Stant (colored) ran away from Washington in order to get rid of a troublesome little affair of business for which he had become responsible by giving bail for his appearance before the criminal court. Safely out of the city, Bill wandered up the canal, towards which raging fleod he had a fellow feeling, and meeting with a favorable offer, entered into contract for service on a canal boat. Here he remained for a short time until he got familiar with the localities of things generally, and found time to exercise his curiosity in particular with reference to where articles of value were stored away. His master having occasion to leave the boat one day for a short time, left it in charge of Bill. When he came back Bill was gone, and on investigation a sum of money amounting to $80, and sundry articles of clothing, were also non est. He chased Bill to Washington, and to his home on the Navy-Yard When the officers went to his house the wife didn't know where Bill was; but the officers thinking they did know, obtained a search warrant, and returning, entered the house, where they soon discovered Mr Bill Stant packed away under the bed. He was summarily rauled out and taken before Justice McKenna, who heard the statement of the boatman. Search was made, but unavailing, for the stolen money; but as luck would have it, the stolen clothing was discovered, and thereupon Bill was committed to jail to await a requisition from the State

"OUR AMERICAN COUSIN" to-night at the theater, and the popular comedian, Jo Jefferson, as Asa Trenchard, in which character he has won golden opinions wherever he has appeared in it. Let it be remembered that Mr. Jefferson is engaged for only six nights, and that no programme will be repeated. Manager Glenn certainly spares no efforts to furnish the amusement going public acceptable entertainments, therefore let there be no vacant seats there any night this week.

DON'T BELONG TO THEM .- We learn that Mr McCauley, of the Patent Office, who was mentioned as present at the late meeting of the "National Volunteers," does not consider himself a member of that organization as at present constituted. He belonged to the Democratic National Volunteers of the late political campaign, but has declined to connect himself with the Association as reorganized, and was present the other night merely as a spectator.

RELEASED .- Saturday night, at 10 o'clock, Godard Bailey, the clerk whose name has been so ex-tensively circulated in connection with the case of the abstracted Indian trust bonds, was released upon ball. The amount required was $5,000. He was at Browns' Hotel last night looking as well as before his incarceration.

To-NIGHT Prof. Barnard gives his third lecture on Light, at the Smithsonian. Many interesting experiments will be made in the course of the lecture. Lecture to commence at a quarter of eight, as usual, when the doors will be closed and the red light extinguished.

BETTER - Mr. John Buckingham, the Engl neer who was so badly injured by the explosion of a steam boiler at the College on last Friday, is, we hear, rapidly improving, and hopes are entertained that he will recover his eyesight again.

APPLICATION was made to-day, with what success we did not learn, by the officers of the Metro politan Rifles, for a supply of arms for that com pany, which has been regularly and permanently organized.

EXECUTIVE PARDONS were granted on Saturday last to Jas Boyle and Robert Hepburn, the latter convicted of assault and battery, and the former of larceny, and both of whom were sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the county jail.

Hon Jacob Thompson, late Secretary of the laterier, was before the Grand Jury to-day in the case of the abstracted Indian trust bonds.

THE "Snow-clad Hills" will be sung on next saturday evening, by request of Ginger.

FURTHER ARRIVALS OF MILITARY .- Sixty-two Inited States soldiers from Fort Clinton, West Point, arrived here in the six o'clock a. m. train from Baltimore yesterday morning. They are a part of company A. engineers' corps, and are under command of Lieut. Jas. A. Duane and Lt. Weitzel. On their arrival at the Department, they marched immediately to the Columbian Armory, where they are quartered. Preparations were made on Friday and Saturday for their reception there. A cook-house was erected outside the Armory, mess-tables built in the artillery room, (lower floor of the armory,) and stoves put up in the third story, which is their dormitory. In a couple of hours after their arrival they were as much at home in the Columbian Armory as though they had always lived there. Their bunks were prepared, arms and accontrements stowed neatly away, and the men in fatigue dress were ounging about, chatting, smoking their pipes, conversing with visiters, &c. They are mostly young men, and have created a favorable impression by their military bearing and courteous demeanor. There are twelve hundred stand of arms belonging to the Government in the Columolan Armory, besides four pieces of field ordnance and other military stores of considerable value. The importance of having them duly guarded in these filibustering times is apparent.

A company of flying artillery, from West Point, numbering seventy-eight men, have been ordered here, and are expected to arrive by to-morrow morning. They are commanded by Capt. Griffin. who is a thorough going officer. A squad of ma-rines, fifteen in number, arrived here last night, and proceeded to headquarters at once. It is supposed that the United States Government will concentrate here prior to the 4th of March next, three companies of light artillery, two of cavalry, and five companies of foot, including the marines at

A SAVAGE HORSE .- Mr. Mayo, who lives at that extremity of the city which lies close upon the Eastern Branch, and employs himself in the summer in curing marsh hay, and in the winter in hauling the same to market, is very much assisted in his labors by a horse of bad habits, of uncertain age. This animal Mr. Mayo thinks, or rather thought, a model of meekness, and has been in the habit of showing him off to the boys of the neighborhood as something uncommon in the way of gentleness and sweetness of disposition. The boys aforesaid, while they admired Mr. Mayo's skill in managing the affectionate quadruped, remained skeptical about his disposition. On Saturda; last Mr. Mayo brought out his steed again for the purpose of showing the boys how lamb-like he was. "He ain't cross, bless you," says Mayo; "he won't bite," etc., etc., at the same time whisking his hand under the "hosses" mouth in a tempting manner. The horse laid his ears back on his neck and neighed—the master thought playfully, the boys thought viciously. "Kindest disposition in the world," says Mayo, again whisking his band familiarly under the animals nose, when, snap-and Mr. Mayo's hand was between the teeth of the animal, and Mr. Mayo was roaring like a bull with pain. "Take him off! take him off!" roared he to the boys, but the boys thought it prudent not stir a peg. Finally the beast permitted his master to withdraw his hand, or rather what was left of it, for he had severed the entire thumb and first finger, almost as neatly as if it had been amputated by a surgeon.

BRUTAL ASSAULT - Yesterday afternoon, a oung man was walking up Ninth street in the vicinity of M, when he met three negroes, arm in arm. They occupied so much of the pavement that he was compelled to step into the street to get by them. As he passed by, the middle negro began to curse him in a loud voice, and breaking away from his companions, seized upon a half brick, which he threw at the white man with all his force. It fortunately missed, and the negro, enraged, rushed upon the man, who was a delicately formed person, and dealt him a number of heavy blows with his fist in the face. The white man made all the fight he appeared able to, but was powerless in the hands of such an adversary. A gentleman who was out walking with his wife discovering the affray. left the lady, and rushing up to the brute gave him a blow which nearly knocked him down; but he fell on his hands, and recovering, jumped up and ran off The young man was very severely bandled, and it is to be hoped that his rescally assailant will be identified and properly dealt with.

CENTRAL GUARDHOUSE, YESTERDAY - Justice Thompson .- George Wilson, (colored,) accused of larceny of a lady's dress and other articles of clothing, was committed to jail for a further examination. Edward Duffey, (colored,) drunk and disorderly; fined $3.94, and subsequently committed to jail on suspicion of being connected with an attempt at burglary in November last. Ann Brown, (colored.) drunk and disorderly; committed to the workhouse for 60 days Edward Butler, Joseph Butler, and William Walker, (all colored,) out after hours; fined $1 58 each. Chas. Parker, (colored,) accused of stabbing Cornelia Corffee (colored) in a row on Capitol Hill; committed to jail for court. Mike Wall, charged with assault and battery upon his wife; committed to jail in default of security. Joseph H Francis. accused of throwing stones in the streets, was fined $2.94. John Kemp and Lloyd Johnson, disorderly; fined $2 94 each Ellen Powell, Patrick Sausfield, and James Callaghan, drunk and disorderly; fined $2.94 each, and committed 30 days each, in default of payment. J. Thomas Dolan, vagrant; committed 30 days.

ODD FELLOW'S FUNERAL -Yesterday afternoon Eastern Lodge No. 7, and the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., headed by Prosperi's band, marched from their lodge room to the eastern section of the city where they were joined by the Navy Yard Bene ficial Society, and proceeded to the funeral of Mr beorge Wilson, late a member of those associations. Rev. Mr. Ryan performed the religious ceremonies at the house; after which the cortege proceeded to the Congressional Cemetery, where Chaplain Parker H. Sweet conducted the services peculiar to the Order, after which the remains were interred in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends of the deceased.

FIRE ALARM -Saturday night the firemen were called out at a late hour by a bright light in the direction of the Park, on Seventh street. The Franklin and other companies started to assist in extinguishing the flames; but after a long drag with their apparatus, they discovered that the fire was beyond the city limits, and in a location where they could hardly be of assistance, and returned. They did not ascertain what was destroyed, but supposed it might be a barn far out in the country.

MILITARY RESIGNATION .- Gen. E. C. Carrington, of the District militia, has resigned his commission for the purpose of taking command of company A, Union regiment, lately organized under his auspices.

CRIMINAL COURT .- William, otherwise called Swyper" Johnson, was placed on trial on a charge of stealing a pistol, valued at $14, from Frederick Wassmann The case was pending when our report closed.

CIRCUIT COURT-January Term .- The January term of this court begun this morning. All the judges present The session was passed calling over the docket and continuing of cases not ready for trial the pending term.

Correspondence of The Star.

GEORGETOWN, January 19, 1861. At the meeting of our City Councils on Friday evening last, the Board of Aldermen, after passing resolutions in relation to a county road; in relation to street manure; accepting the services of a volunteer patrol; in relation to a strip of ground on Frederick street; in favor of W. D. Wallach, and Chas Myers & Son; in favor of Jos. Nicholson; and paying expenses for poor and work house for quarter ending Sept. 30, 1860, adjourned to Monday evening next.

The following papers were referred: A message from the Mayor, (Addison,) enclosing accounts of E. M. Linthicum & Co., J. W. Byram, and Jno. A. Smith, Clerk of the Circuit Court. A message from the same, enclosing a report of the organization of a volunteer patrol force, the election of Col. Richard S Cox as chief of the same, &c; and an account of Mr. Chas. Trunnel,

The following resolutions were passed:-Resolution to supply deficiency for improvement of High street; one authorizing the Mayor to accept the services of a volunteer patrol; [this resolution originated with Mr. Tenney, and is not the same as was passed by the Board of Aldermen;] one relating to a strip of ground on Frederick street, one to pay expenses of poor and workhouse; one in favor of W. D. Wallach and Charles Myers & son; and one in favor of Jos. Nicholson. The committee on grievances was discharged from further consideration of the petition of Sam'i Rainey. When the Chair announced unfinished business as next in order-

Mr. Stake said that before proceeding he would state that we were without an acting Mayor, and it would be necessary to notify Mr. Crawford and have him installed. Mr. Tenney asked what the gentleman pro posed to do? The court, if he was correctly in-formed, had not decided that Mr. Crawford was Mayor, but only that Mr. Addison had not received a majority of legal votes. He (Mr. C.) was Mayor by virtue of holding over from 1857, and there was no need to swear him in. He had been sworn in. He (Mr. Tenney) would recognize him as Mayor to-morrow. Mr. Fearson said it was customary to swear in the Mayor before both boards. He wanted to comply with the forms. Mr. Hill said this debate was not in order. I there was no unfinished business, let us take up the business from the Board of Aldermen. He did not know why the papers did not go on the President's desk Mr. Stake read the law relating to installation of the Mayor, and said the time having expired for which Mr. C. took the oath as Mayor, it was necessary to swear him in again. "It would give me great gratification," said he, "to see that gentleman here among us; but not as I saw him nearly two years ago It is the highest position to which we can elect a citizen, and it is proper he should take the oath in a solemn manner be fore this body. Mr. Tenney restated his position, and appealed to Mr. Dunlop to know whether he had stated the decision of the court correctly.

Mr. Dunlop could not undertake to speak of the official action of the court, but the decision as he understood it was, that Mr. Addison had not received a majority of votes. This action was rather hasty, and we had better wait for some official notice from Mr Addison or from the Clerk. Mr. Hill said we knew nothing of the case officially, and ought to proceed with the regular order

Mr. Tenney asked the President if there were net communications on his desk signed H. Addison, Mayor? The President (Mr. Pickrell) said there was and we could not act on mere rumor here.

Mr. Fearson was at court when the writ was ssued. He had not seen it served, but understood it had been, and that the ex-Mayor had moved from the Mayor's office, and took his private property off. The office was vacant and ready for a new tenant, and he would take the responsibility of moving that the Chair appoint a committee Mr. Crawford and desire his presence

Mr. King thought we had better take the advice of the Corporation Attorney. He had advised it on both occasions of swearing in before, but was not regarded.

Mr. Tenney was glad his friend (Mr. Fearson) used the term ex-Mayor. Mr. Addison was ex-Mayor contrary to the will of the people, and, in his opinion, in opposition to justice. He was also glad he had said private property, and not public property. Mr. Fearson accused no one of stealing.

Mr. Tenney had not charged any one with steal ing, but with taking away the property of the Corporation. We were not the Corporation. It would require a joint resolution. The Aldermen must act with us

Mr Stake said, no course we could take here would be more inconsistent than that of our illustrious predecessors, who, while the matter was in court, swore in one of the parties a first, second.
and he believed a third time. "They did their duty to their friend," said he; "let us do our duty to our friend. Let us pay him the respect due to him. There is not a man here but is fully satisfied the office is vacated, and it is our duty to swear Mr. Crawford in, notwithstanding his holding over. If the board do not wish to act tonight, however, I will yield "

Mr. Tenney.—I wish to ask the gentleman if he honestly believes that R. R. Crawford received a majority of votes at the last election? Mr. Stake -I do.

Mr. Tenney.—Then the gentleman differs with a sworn jury of his own side. Mr. Stake said he could not speak for what tool place in the interim Mr. Fearson moved a committee be appointed to wait on Mr. C.

Mr. Stake said this was not the proper time. He was going to prepare a message to the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Tenney wanted to know if this was unfinished business. Mr. Stake moved a suspension of the rules; which motion was lost.

[Mr. Stake subsequently prepared a message to the Board of Aldermen, which was agreed to and concurred in by the other Board, proposing a meeting on Monday evening at 7% o'clock.] Business from the Board of Aldermen was ther aken up.

The letter of J. E. Reeside was referred t The report of the Board of Guardians of George town School was referred to school committee. Mr. Tenney asked unanimous consent to introduce a resolution inquiring of the Recorder if it was necessary to swear Mr. Crawford in again. Mr. Hill objected. The Vanderwerken resolution having been amended in the other board by substitution of "il per cent. quarterly" for "5 per cent. quarterly," said amendment was not concurred in, and Mr Hill asked a committee of conference, which was agreed to, and the chair appointed Messrs. to omit the debate on Mr. Tenney's Union meet ing resolution, which was opposed and voted down for the reasons as stated, that all were Union men here, and that if a meeting is desired it would be better for the citizens themselves to act, and not the Corporation. Adjourned to Monday.

DR. J. C. AVER — Respected Sir: I should be wanting in common gratitude if I did not acknowledge to you what your skill, or more accurately your Extract of Sarsaparilla has done for my wife. She has been for some years afflicted with a humor, which comes out upon her skin in the autumn and winter with such insufferable itching as to renders life almost intolerable. It has never failed to come upon her in cold weather, nor has any remedial aid been able to hasten its departure before apring, or to at all alleviate her sufferings from it. This season it began in October with its usual violence. By the advice of our celebrated Surgeon, Dr. Kimbali, I gave her your Sarsaparilla. In a week it had brought the humor out upon her skin worse than we had ever seen it before; but it soon began to disappear. The itching has ceased and the humor is now entirely gone, so that she is completely cured, but still continues taking the Sarsaparilla, to insure a complete expulsion of the disease from the system. Yours, respectfully.
